Entertainment Provided Including Exhibit in Gym.

A social evening for the cutlery men from Thamesville made an attractive programme at the Y. M. C. A. building on Monday from 8 to 10 p. m., and was attended by about 60 men from that shop. While they gathered in the parlors, music was rendered by an orchestra consisting of F. C. Geer, plane; W. W. Lang, violin; John Kukla, clarinet, and A. W. Jarvis, cornet. About 8.20 the men were invited down to the gymnasium, where the senior class entertained them with class drill and some relay races under the direction of Physical Director Lessing Bandiow. This was followed by a basketball game between teams from the finishers and a team of polishers, in which the finishers finished their rivals by the score of 12 to 4. Drake of the finishers was the big point scorer, shooting four field goals and two from the foul line. Excitement ran high all through the game as both sides had a goodly collection of strong lunged rooters in the galleries, who cheered on their favorites for every play. The finishers led at the end of the first half by the score of 4 to 2. Between the halves a fifteen minute wrestling match between two cutlery men, Johnson and Foote, was put

HANDSOME NEW PARLORS AT WAUREGAN HOUSE

Changes Have Been Going On for Several Months and Are Practically Completed.

In line with the many changes which have been made at the Wauregan house for the past few years, is the big improvement which has resulted from the changes in the parlor and the alcove adjoining, which about completes the remodeling of that floor of the popular hotel.

The changes are not confined to the parlor and alcove alone, but throughout the floor many improve-ments have been made, new rooms fit-ted up and the halls handsomely em-bellished. The doors have been taken out of the parlor and the one into the room on the Broadway side has been closed. The others are now openings much wider than the former doorways, havng fluted columns at the side, while the large opening from the parlor into the alcove has in addition two fluted pllasters at each side. The woodwork is all done in white and across the ceiling are two false beams, making an attractive finish to the large room. there is also a tempting Davenport Attorney J. J. Quinn and Storrs Campbell of Hartford Make Stirring Addresses-Membership Increased by 23, Making Total of 413.

Memorial, with Attorney James J. Quinn of Hartford and Storrs Campbell, vice president of the Hartford council, as the speakers. Enthusiastic interest in the parallel of the interest in the words of the speakers interest in the words of the speakers was shown all through the evening by the 100 men present, and the indictment made by Mr. Quinn against the demoratic party as a do-nothing organization was bailed with applause. Vice President Frederic W. Cary called the meeting to order a little after 8 o'clock, having delayed to await the arrival of speakers who had trouble in getting here through railroad and trolley connections by way of Saybrook and New London.

New Members Elected.

The minutes of the previous meeting and of the reception to Candidate Goodwin and other candidates were read by Secretary James L. Case, who also read the following list of 23 names which were voted into membership: E. C. Jewett, George L. Carey, O. S. Smith, G. F. Hyde, D. L. Underwood, A. A. Mitchell, Andrew B. Davies, John H. Smith, Edgar Brown, Angus Park, C. Aug. Pearson, E. W. Benson, Edwin Sjoblons, Oscar Frickman, Anthony Elison, N. B. Landlere, Gus Anderson, New Members Elected.

JAMES J. QUINN.

Charles Anderson, Ivar Olson, Oscar Johnson, John Lundgren, Carl Melch-er, E. W. Benson, Herman Alofsin, 2d. Vice President Cary explained that the absence of President Grosvenor was due to the latter's attendance at the city's common council meeting, and he referred to the considerable part the Goodwin-Lippitt club had played in the local campaign, now having a membership of 413.

J. J. Quinn Presented. Introduced by Vice President Cary, Attorney Quinn said he had arrived much out of temper, after a struggle with the Consolidated road , but the sight of so goodly a gathering of re-publicans dissipated all his riled up feelings. > Less Law, More Human Kindness. As for Judge Baldwin, the speaker said, the democratic candidate for governor had been going a great pace to a man of his years, and he didn't in tend to say anything wrong about him for he was one of the first gentlemen of the state, but as a public official he might be criticised. According Judge Baldwin's ruling in the case. Attorney Quinn asked how he could sign an employers' liability act or an employes' compensation act without a change in the constitution. And when Judge Ealdwin is asked what he will do about a public utilities will be save be will look it over the bill he says he will look it over and if it agrees with his ideas acquired from long years of legal practice, he will sign it. What we want is a governor with a little less law and a little more human kindness. (Applause). To Goodwin from the hands of the To Goodwin from the hands of the dead Lilley no task has been more sa-credly committed than the passage of an effective public utilities act and the employers liability act and the re-moval of the $5,090 limitation for loss of life. We want to legislate more for the poor people, for in Connecticut nothing is so cheap as human life. We may recover $20,000 for a valuable horse killed in a railroad wrock, but only $5,000 for a human life.

Republicans Have Done Something. Summing up, Attorney Quinn said that the republican party had been the party of achievement, while the democrats since the war of the re-bellion had done nothing but swash around from one thing to anothe without any compass to guide them They have been out of step too long to take the place of the party of Washtleular attention to the record of ligton and Lincoln and Roservett and Congressman Higgins taking up point Taft. CONGRESSMAN HIGGINS ADDRESSES TAFTVILLE RALLY Judge Ayling and Dr. Clement Frechette of Leominster Also Heard by Enthusiastic Crowd.

The final rally of the republicans in this place took place Monday eve-ning in Ponemah hall, Taftvide, bening in Ponemah hall, Tattville, before an enthusiastic gathering, with Congressman E. W. Higgins, Dr. Clement Frechette of Leominster, Mass., and Judge of Probate Nelson J. Ayling as the principal speakers. Henry Reeves of Baltic called the meeting to order promptly at 8 o'clock and acted as chairman of the meeting. He spoke in both French and English as he opened the meeting and as he inhe opened the meeting and as he in-troduced the several speakers. His remarks were listened to with interest remarks were listened to with interest by everyone present.

Mr. Higgins was introduced as the first speaker, ond was given a hearty welcome as he stepped to the front of the platform. He said that he did not feel that he was a stranger there and called to mind the loyal support given him by the Taffville people ten years ago when he was a candidate years ago when he was a candidate for the state legislature and in recent years since he has been representing this district in congress. Four years ago, he added, the Taftville people did not give him a majority, yet he trust-ed that when the ballots were counted Tuesday night it would be found that he had won out in this district. He was sorry that there were not more present, for even though they might be democrats it was not too late for repentance

Mr. Higgins stated that he considered this election as one of the most important held in this state for a long number of years, and he was with them in order to tell his constituents just how he felt regarding the issues under discussion at the present time. The people, too, as wage earners in this state, were entitled to know his attitude and had the privilege of telling him just how they felt. He did not wish to remain in congress for one minute, he added, if he misconceived the thought of the people he

Dr. Clement Frechette of Leomins er. Mass., was then introduced by ministration, the work of recent congresses and in support of the entire republican ticket. His remarks were interspersed with witticisms and stories appropriate to the occasion, and at the conclusion of his talk he was given hearty applied. at the conclusion of his talk he was given hearty applause.

Judge Ayling Heard. Judge of Probate Nelson J. Ayling was then introduced and, after exwas then introduced and, area ex-plaining how it was he chanced to be at the rails in Taftville at this time he told his hearers a few things con-cerning the inside workings of his ofnce, which were listened to with careful attention. Judge Ayling said careful attention. Jinge Aying said that although his office was eliminat-ed in a way from politics, yet he could not consider it entirely free in this respect. SCRATCHED SO SHE COULD NOT SLEEP

"I write to tell you how thankful I am for the wonderful Cuticura Remedies. My little niece had eczema for five years and when her mother died I took care of the child. It was all over her face and body, also on her head. She scratched so that she could not sleep nights. I used Cuticura Soap to wash her with and then applied Cuticura Ointment. I did not use quite half the Cuticura Soap and Ointment, together with Cuticura Resolvent, when you could see a change and they cuted her nicely. Now she is eleven years old and has never been bothered with eczema tince. My friends think it is just great the way the baby was cured by Cuticura. She was taken with the eczema when two years old. She was covered with big sores and her mother had all the best doctors and tried all kinds of salves and medicines without effect until we used Cuticura Semedies. Mrs. H.
